

TO SHOW HIS TEETH.

RUSSIA AND THE BEHRING
SEA CONTROVERSY.

THE BEAR WILL ALSO TAKE A HAND.

An Important Letter Received at the State
Department From St. Petersburg—
The Czar Will Protect Uncle Sam's
Title in the Behring Sea—Proceedings in the Senate and House—Other News.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—There is an unopened letter in town of some national importance. It is in the hands of the state department and came from St. Petersburg through the final hands of the czar's representatives in Washington. Those who assume to speak by the card say that the letter refers to the Behring sea and announces Russia's interest and position in the matter in this wise: Russia forbids any arrangement to arbitrate between the United States and Great Britain as reflecting upon Russia's good faith when she sold Alaska and her title to what she assumed to sell and part with. Russia asserts in effect that she had perfect title to all that the United States claims now as against England, and does not intend to allow any power, and particularly England or any European power, to asperse this title in the possession of the United States or call the same in question.

Russia, in other words, asserts there is nothing to arbitrate, any more than there would be with a robber or a sneak-thief, and does not intend that her honor shall be reflected on by any admission of the sort. The country of the bear says, too, that she will make position good against England or the world.

THREE ARE BARRED.

Colombia, Hayti and Venezuela Must Pay
American Duties.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—In accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the tariff act of 1890, known as the reciprocity section, on January 7 last Secretary Blaine addressed notes to the representatives in this city of Austria, Hungary, Colombia, Hayti, Honduras, Nicaragua and Spain for the Philippine islands and Venezuela informing them that unless some understanding was reached as to a commercial arrangement before March 15 the president would be compelled to issue his proclamation imposing the duties fixed in that section on sugar, molasses, coffee and hides, the products of the countries named.

A commercial arrangement with Nicaragua has already been published. It is understood that a similar arrangement has been agreed upon with Honduras and will be announced within a few days; also that Austria Hungary made a definite proposition, as like as main respecting the Philippine islands, which gave promise of early adjustment.

This leaves subject to action under the tariff law, and lay issued his proclamation declaring force as to sugar, molasses, coffee and from them separate proclamations of the same purpose are issued to each country.

SECRETARY ELKINS' PLANS.

He Wants the Army and State Militia
Brought Closer Together.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The order issued yesterday by Secretary Elkins reorganizing the bureau of military information so as to enlarge its scope and usefulness excites considerable thought on the part of the secretary, who proposes to extend the inquiries of this bureau so as to make it equally effective and useful as similar bureaus which are maintained in the war offices of foreign governments. The great feature of interest to the border states is the proposed plan for mobilization and transportation of federal and volunteer troops at strategic points on or near the frontier. Secretary Elkins stated to your correspondent that the underlying purpose of the order was to bring the federal military establishment in closer relations with the militia of the various states.

STILL TALKING TARIFF.

Mr. Walker Creates Amusement for Our Overworked Senators.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The tariff discussion is beginning to tire the house, and there was a lack of interest in the proceedings yesterday until Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, who has a very strong personality, and expresses his views in a radical fashion, took the floor. A number of Democrats stirred him up with a continuous cross-fire of questions. During his speech he alluded to the decline in the price of watches, and drew out his own time piece for the purpose of making an illustration and laid it on his desk until the time should arrive for him to make his point.

But some fun-loving member appropriated it, and when Mr. Walker desired to refer to it it was missing, and he was greeted with the suggestion that he was fortunate enough to retain his chain.

Fighting Judge Wood's Appointment.
The senate in executive session listened for two hours to arguments by Messrs. Voorhees and Turpie in opposition to the confirmation of Judge Woods and to Mr. Hoar's defence of the nominee. The judiciary committee had in its report Judge Wood's name at the head of the list of circuit judges so it was not possible for any of the other nominations to be acted upon until the Woods case was disposed of.

Mr. Hale presented the conference report on the urgency deficiency bill and after some discussion, during which Mr. Sherman said that any department which had not been sent to the house ought to be held to an explanation for so doing. It was agreed to.

Mr. Peffer introduced a bill, which was referred to the finance committee, to regulate the value of certain coins and pieces of money and to give to all sorts of current money the legal tender quality and to prohibit and prevent discrimination in favor of gold coin or bullion.

Blaine, Morrill and Springer Better.
WASHINGTON, March 16.—Blaine is convalescing satisfactorily and is gaining in strength every day. His appetite is good and his disposition cheerful. The secretary has not yet been down stairs since his recent attack and probably will not do so before the latter part of the week. Senator Morrill's condition is slightly improved and he is a little stronger. He keeps up his courage well and does not yet seem to despond. Mr. Springer is gaining strength daily, slowly but surely.

Considering Quantrell Claims.
WASHINGTON, March 16.—The claims of the state of Kansas for moneys expended in the adjustment and settlement of certain claims of citizens of that state, growing out of the invasion of guerrilla bands led by Quantrell and other confederate officers during 1861 to 1865 in the eastern counties, have received the favorable consideration of the committee on war claims. The committee reports in favor of an appropriation of $362,012.46.

THE STATE WILL AID.

Governor Francis Orders the Arrest of the Tane County Lynchers.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 16.—Governor Francis has sent the following telegram:

"J. L. Cook, Sheriff Tane county, Forsythe, Mo.:
"Newspapers report that Williams, deputy sheriff of Tane county, was murdered by a mob whilst guarding a prisoner at Forsythe. If true arrest all persons implicated in the murder. Summons possess sufficient to hold prisoners and see the law enforced. If you cannot secure enough law abiding citizens in your county to do so advise me and I shall send you aid. Answer."

"DAVID R. FRANCIS, Governor."
Representative Owen of Tane county left at midnight for Forsythe. He stated that he knew none of the parties and had no knowledge of the existing condition of affairs. The message sent by the governor must be taken twenty-six miles by messenger across the Bald Knob hills of Tane county from Chadwick to Forsythe.

A MONTE CARLO ROW.

Lady Randolph Churchill Was Robbed
During the Confusion.

MONTE CARLO, March 16.—An exciting row occurred yesterday in the gambling salon in the Casino. A man had in some way offended a woman and she retaliated by boxing his ears. Among those who were in the salon was Lady Randolph Churchill. Some enterprising pick-pocket who thought that the excitement afforded him an excellent opportunity to ply his trade sidled up to Lady Randolph Churchill and relieved her of her purse, which contained rather a large sum of gold and a number of valuable coins struck off during Queen Victoria's jubilee.

DIED AT HIS POST.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A BRAVE
DEPUTY SHERIFF.

A BALD NOBBER'S WILD WORK.

Deputy Sheriff Williams of Tane County.
Mo., Killed While Defending Wife-Murderer Bright—Lieutenant Hetherington Held For Murder—Other Criminal Doings.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 15.—Soon after 9 o'clock Saturday night a mob of half drunken men, numbering a dozen or fourteen, all wearing masks, approached the little rickety jail at Forsythe, Tane county, and demanded of Deputy Sheriff Williams to surrender to them John Wesley Bright, who one week ago yesterday shot and killed his wife on Roach creek, in the northwest part of that county.

Deputy Sheriff George C. Williams, who was posted without the door, planted himself firmly on the steps and told the mob that he would protect the unhappy prisoner at all hazards. When the mob made a break for the jail he fired one shot, evidently to intimidate them. It cost him his life, for one of the mob deliberately took him and fired at the brave deputy and the bullet went crashing through his breast. The mob was armed with crowbars and readily opened the door of the rickety jail and dragged the helpless prisoner forth. The leaders quickly fastened a rope around his neck and hurriedly proceeded up a hill to the graveyard, where they swung him to the limb of a tree. As soon as they were sure that Bright, the wife murderer, was dead the leader of the mob fired a shot from his pistol, which was the signal for them to disperse and immediately they all disappeared without one of them being recognized. One account says Williams was not armed and that he was coolly murdered by the mob. It is stated that Sheriff Cook and others were near by when Williams was killed, but took warning from his fate and did not dare to interfere.

George C. Williams, the brave deputy who lost his life in defense of the prisoner, was one of the foremost citizens of Tane county and the president of the Farmers' and Laborers' union of that county. He went there from Louisville, Ky., only a few years ago. An inquest held yesterday resulted in a verdict of death at the hands of persons unknown.

The ring leaders who killed him and hung Bright, it is supposed, were prominent members of the extinct organization known a few years since as Bald knobbers. Bright was said to be an anti-Bald knobber, and it is said that a brother of his was killed some years ago by that organization.

It is believed that when some of this mob is captured a regular war will take place such as never has been known in Southwest Missouri. It will likely bring up the old strife between the Bald knobbers and anti-Bald knobbers that was a terror to Tane and adjoining counties some years ago.

COULD NOT FACE DISGRACE.

Sensational Failure and Suicide of a Denver Business Man.

DENVER, Colo., March 15.—A sensational failure and suicide occurred here yesterday. About noon attachments aggregating $75,000 were served on the wholesale liquor firm of Jacob Boehm & Co., of this city, whose liabilities, it is thought, will foot up to $150,000. When the attachments were served and the sheriff took possession James Boehm immediately went to his room and took a dose of poison. He was found several hours afterwards dead in bed. It has since transpired that he had been guilty of forgery.

THE HETHERINGTON INQUEST.

Coroner's Jury of Yokohama Holds Him for Wilful Murder.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, March 15.—The coroner's jury has held Lieutenant Hetherington for wilful murder for the shooting of Broker Robinson.

Before Robinson's death, he caused a letter to be written to United States Admiral Belknap expressing pardon for Hetherington's act and requesting that the utmost possible leniency might be shown in dealing with the case.

VALPARAISO, March 17.—The ministers of the new cabinet are in accord in friendliness and good will toward the United States. This is on the authority of Eduardo Matto, minister of the interior, the new premier.
